Telepsychology Now: Clinical Depth and Adaptive Practice

Friday, May 29, 2026, 12:00–3:15 PM ET

This 3-hr webinar prepares clinicians to deliver high-quality telepsychology in a rapidly evolving clinical landscape. Moving beyond foundational telehealth competencies, the session focuses on maintaining clinical depth, strengthening assessment, and adapting to emerging patient behaviors, including self-directed treatments, digital subcultures, and sociopolitical stressors. Participants will learn practical strategies to enhance therapeutic presence, navigate common telehealth challenges, and determine when in-person or higher levels of care are warranted. The webinar also addresses equity considerations, including privacy, safety, and access across diverse patient populations. Emphasis is placed on concrete language, decision-making frameworks, and immediately applicable clinical tools.
